

Price List and Prices for Countertops

Overview

New kitchen countertops cost most homeowners between $1,800 and $4,500, with the national average sitting around $3,140 in 2026. That includes materials, fabrication, and professional installation for a standard 30 to 40 square foot kitchen. But your project could land well above or below that. Countertop costs depend on your material choice, project size, edge profile, number of cutouts, and local labor rates. The material you choose accounts for. Below is a quick chart comparing 14 types of countertops by cost, durability and maintenance. So, what does your budget afford you?
